DESCRIPTION

Ideal for clean-up tasks, the Foodflush is a textile-reinforced washdown and cleaning hose that can also be used to transport liquid food products. It is a versatile piece of equipment which is useful in all kinds of applications in processing and filling plants. It can also be comfortably stored out of the way on hose reels. The Foodflush's cover protects it from damage from grease and oil. It is phthalate-free and meets FDA and BFR regulations for food contact materials.
